Biographical Sketch

Jack Stanton, known as “Mr. Evangelism” served as director of the evangelism department at the Home Mission Board and as professor of evangelism at Southwest Baptist University in Bolivar, Missouri. He also taught at Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Kansas City, MO, and served as secretary of evangelism of the Kansas and Colorado Baptist Convention.

Stanton was born August 31, 1919, in East St. Louis, Illinois. Stanton attended William Jewell College but earned a bachelor of arts Shurtleff College in Alton, Illinois. IN 1941 he married Mary Skrivan. Together they had two daughters, Mary Lee and Melody Ann. He received a bachelor of divinity degree from Central Baptist Theological Seminary in Kansas City (1955) and doctor of theology degree from Luther Rice Seminary in 1974.

Stanton was the author of the widely used How to Have a Full and Meaningful Life” evangelistic booklet. He co-authored the booklet “We are Witnesses” and Handbook on Evangelism. He directed numerous evangelistic crusades, primarily across the western United States, and coordinated Baptist Jubilee Revivals throughout Jamaica and Panama, with tens of thousands professions of faith. In 1964 Stanton directed the West Coast Laymen’s Crusade which involved 900 lay8 men witnessing in churches in California, Washington, Oregon, and Western Canada. He made an evangelistic trip around the world and has been in all 50 states and 80 countries for evangelistic outreach.

Stanton was elected first vice president of the Southern Baptist Convention in 1986 and 1987. He was elected director of lay evangelism for the Baptist World Alliance men’s department for two five-year terms (1990-1995 and 1995-2000). The Conference of Southern Baptist Evangelists honored Stanton for Outstanding Achievement in Evangelism during the 1996 Southern Baptist Convention annual meeting.

Jack Stanton died July 14, 2002. He is buried in Greenwood Cemetery in Bolivar, Missouri.
